

Change Competency accelerates your organization's ability, knowledge and skills to successfully manage change in a world where nothing stays the same.

3 Reasons to Build Change Competency

Adaptiveness to change has become an essential business skill as the occurrence and pace of change continues to increase.

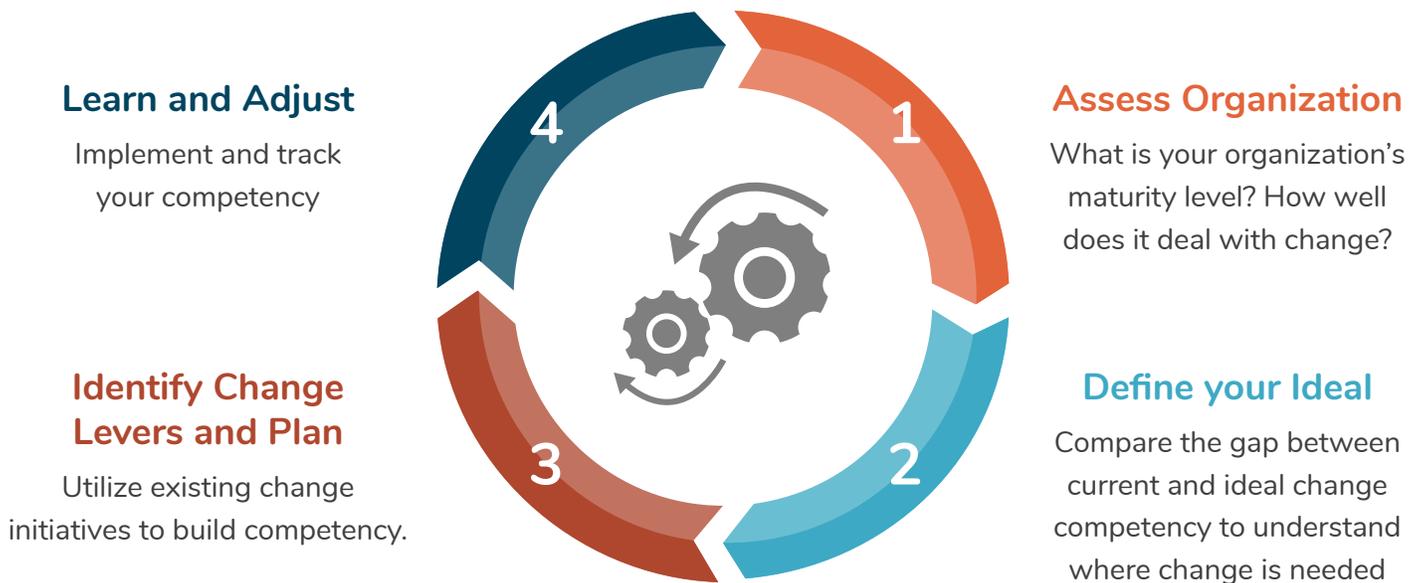

To achieve anticipated benefits from your change it's important for everyone across the organization to understand the purpose and value of change, their role in change, and how to manage the challenges of change.

Transforming an organization requires engagement, and therefore competency, from across the business.

Accelerated Knowledge Builds Competency

Accelerated Knowledge's Education is a Differentiator

Accelerated Knowledge delivers role-based education designed to engage participants and provide immediate application.

Leaders explore how to address change strategically, engaging proactively to ensure success, while avoiding overmanaging the details. This empowers the project team and the business to embrace change.

Changing people's perception of change, is critical to building competency in a positive way. We use gamification and ask both the Project Team and the Business to see change as an adventure or challenge. The knowledge gained in seminar, is immediately applied with a working session where teams draft a roadmap for their change.
